

THE 2025 NEXT GEN WOMEN'S LEADERSHIP, ENTREPRENEURSHIP, POSITIVE PSYCHOLOGY, SPIRITUAL LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

MAY 02, 2025 | VIRTUAL CONFERENCE

Dr. Makeba Morgan Hill once lived a life that many admire—degrees from top universities, a thriving executive career, and a reputation for excellence. But underneath the accolades and designer labels was a woman silently aching for something real. In this deeply honest and soul-stirring keynote, she shares the moment she stopped chasing success and started choosing peace—and how that single decision transformed her life from the inside out.

This keynote invites high-achieving women and spiritually curious leaders into a new understanding of success—one that honors their gifts, their healing, and their whole selves. Drawing from her personal journey and spiritual strategy framework, Dr. Makeba outlines three core shifts that helped her break free from the illusion of “having it all” and create a life aligned with purpose, peace, and inner wealth.

Through storytelling, sacred insight, and practical tools, she helps audiences release societal pressure, reclaim their power, and step into a more fulfilling definition of success—without sacrificing their ambition or impact.

This talk is for anyone who has ever looked successful on the outside but felt empty inside. It's for those ready to redefine what success means, reconnect with their spirit, and lead a life that feels as good as it looks.

Because the truth is: success didn't set her free.

Peace did.
